INTENT TO SOLE SOURCE

SC DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

SAVIN – A Statewide Automated Victim Information and Notification System also known as VINE (Victim Information Notification Everyday System). VINE helps keep communities safe and informed by providing crime victims access to information about offenders' custody status and notifying the victim about any changes in the offender's custody status. Victims must be able to receive automated notifications about their offender's custody status via their choice of format: phone, email, or text. TTY services must also be available. VINE is a single solution that notifies users about updates to court events and protective orders. The SAVIN System is currently being utilized in 44 county detention centers, 4 prison camps, 2 city jails, 3 state agencies and 1 judicial circuit Solicitors' Offices.

The System must meet BJA SAVIN requirements for victim notification. The overall SAVIN architecture must support the ability to share data among multiple data sources. The information sharing for SAVIN includes implementing relevant national information sharing standards as recommended by DOJ's Global Justice Information Sharing Initiative (Global), such as Global Reference Architecture (GRA), National Data Exchange Model (NIEM), and Global Federated Identity and Privilege Management (GFIPM).
